MRS. BULL'S LIFE REHEARSED

Long Contest At Alfred Over Her Will Is Expected

There is prospect that the contest over the will of Mrs. Ole Bull, of Ellettsville, Ind., widow of the celebrated violinist, will be a long drawn out affair. Joseph C. Thorpe, brother of Mrs. Bull, and one of the executors, resumed his testimony Wednesday morning. Mr. Thorpe was questioned in regard to a promissory note for $10,000 given by him to Mrs. Bull in 1902. He testified that he went through the effects of Mrs. Bull after her death and remembered seeing the note, but could not remember that there was a memorandum attached to it. He was credited yearly with $500, representing 5 percent. He denied writing out any memoranda in connection with the note.

Atty. Sherman L. Whipple asked Mr. Thorpe the names of persons who were intimate with her outside of her family and who. He gave the names of Miss Margaret E. Noble of Calcutta, India, known as Sister Nivetta.

DURHAM SOPHS INSPECT NAVY YARD WORKINGS

On Wednesday the members of the sophomore class of New Hampshire college who are taking the engineering course took a short trip during which they inspected the navy yard. The tour was conducted by Professors Cardullo, Putnam and Tonkin and was for the purpose of giving the engineering men some idea of the practical application of their work.

They left Durham on the 8.20 train in the morning and came to Portsmouth by the way of Dover. Directly upon their arrival here, they proceeded to the navy yard and the remainder of the day was spent there. They visited all parts of the yard and the entire process of ship-building was explained to them. A large part of the time was spent in viewing the machine shops and wood-working shops and in inspecting and viewing the up-to-date machinery which is installed therein.

This trip, it is hoped, will be of great value to the engineering men, as it gives them an insight into the extremely practical side of their vocation they also had a chance to view the very latest and most improved machinery.

LACK OF RAIN DOESN'T WORRY MAYOR BADGER

Unlike many of his fellow farmers, Mayor Daniel W. Badger is not disturbed by the lack of rain. Viewing the drought optimistically, Mayor Badger says that the present scarcity suggests an ideal summer, with excellent crops. As Mayor Badger is one of the most successful farmers in southern New Hampshire his attitude is considered to be of importance.

"It is true that we have gone a remarkably long time without rain," commented Mr. Badger, "but I would rather have it dry now than in June. At this season of the year the ground is not particularly dry. Following the winter and the subsequent thaw the ground is very damp, and that condition is continued as the last vestiges of frozen ground are removed by the sun's rays."

"There is an old saying that a wet May will give plenty of hay, but I believe that there is more rhyme than truth in that. My experience has been that with a dry May and a wet June the crops are heavy but with a wet May and dry June the reverse is true."

THE NEWINGTON GRANGE HOSTS ON WEDNESDAY

East Rockingham pomona grange met Wednesday with Piscataqua grange at Newington. There was a large attendance.

At the public meeting held in the afternoon at the Congregational church the program was as follows:

Vocal solo, "Afterwards," by Mrs. Nellie E. Seavey of Rye.

"Woman Suffrage in Practice," Miss Mary N. Chase, president of New Hampshire woman suffrage association.

Reading by Miss Ella F. Eastman of Exeter.

Vocal solo, Miss Edie D. Wright of Portsmouth.

THROUGH WITH DIVING

Deputy Marshal Michael Hurley of the police department, who for a score of years has done much diving along this part of the coast, announces that he is through with diving. Mr. Hurley made all the important searches for bodies, and he also examined damaged vessels that have come into port.

WILL NOT ALLOW BLUEJACKETS IN HOLIDAY PARADE

Navy Officers Resent Slight To Uniform

Storer Post G. A. R. Adopts Resolutions of Deprecation

The alleged discrimination in this city against enlisted men of the army and navy bore its first fruit Wednesday afternoon, when after a consultation with Rear Admiral Joseph Foster, U. S. N., retired, and Capt. J. Albert Sanborn of Storer Post, G. A. R., Capt. Frank A. Wilner, U. S. N., commandant of the navy yard, refused to allow his officers to participate in any way, or permit the enlisted men to appear as usual in the big parade in this city on Memorial Day.

The custom is an old and time-honored one, and the absence of representation from the navy yard and ships there will seriously cripple the plans for observance of the holiday. At their regular meeting Wednesday evening, Storer Post, G. A. R., No. 1, of this city, hastened to disclaim any connection in sympathy with the spirit of antagonism against the uniform which has shown itself in some quarters. As an expression of their attitude they unanimously adopted the following resolution:

WHEREAS, Storer Post, No. 1, Dept. N. H., G. A. R., having learned with regret that officers and men stationed at this navy yard and attached to the ships thereat, on account of what they believe to be an unjust and illegal discrimination against the uniform of the U. S. Navy, which has and does now exist in this city, and WHEREAS, By reason of said unjust and illegal discrimination the officers of the navy have declined to participate themselves, or permit their men to appear in the usual public parade on Memorial Day, and

WHEREAS, The presence of the officers of the navy and army, with the details under their command, have by their presence on Memorial Day for many years been an object lesson, impressing the young especially with the power and majesty of our government, and

WHEREAS, Storer Post is indebted to the officers and men at this naval station and at the Forts at New Castle for their always kind and considerate assistance in teaching the lessons Memorial Day is intended to convey, therefore be it

RESOLVED, That Storer Post No. 1 of Portsmouth emphatically disclaim for itself and on the part of the people of this city any portion in the alleged prejudice and discrimination complained of, and that it will now and always oppose, as far as lies in its power, any persons or influence which shall now or hereafter violate or evade this law, or any law of our city, state or nation, and be it further

RESOLVED, That as the uniform of our country means much more to the Grand Army of the Republic than it possibly can to a few who cannot understand the higher purpose and mission of that uniform as dear to us, we herewith extend the cordial hand of a comrade to every man wearing that uniform who is now, or who shall hereafter stand within our gates.

RESOLVED, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the Officers and men stationed at the U. S. Navy Yard and Forts in this vicinity; to the officers and men of the N. H. N. G.; to the Mayor and City Council, and to the Press of this city.

ABOUT THE STATE

Claremont, May 18—The first day of the general conference of the Congregational churches of the state was one of interest, being mostly instructive and interesting addresses on various subjects pertaining to church work and progressive methods. The meeting was opened by devotional service by the Rev. Frank Park of Boscawen. The statistical report by Joseph Benton revealed the condition of the societies in the state. He said in part:

Laconia, May 18—To consider the establishing of a sprinkling precinct, as provided in an act passed at the recent session of the New Hampshire general court, a special meeting of the Laconia city council was held Tuesday evening. Mayor George H. Saltmarsh presided, and the following members were present: Delorey, Sanborn, Carroil, Thompson, Willey, Rand, Robinson, Hoyle, Elliott and Smith.

Goffstown, May 18—The committee on the 160th anniversary of the town

Nashua, May 18—A all day search Wednesday with a motor boat and ropes and grapnels failed to disclose the body of Blanche S. Willoughby, the assistant librarian, who is supposed to have drowned herself in the Merrimack river Monday night. That she committed suicide there is practically no doubt. Patrolman Frank Manover and Thomas Sullivan went to the place where her coat and gloves were found on the bank last night, at daybreak this morning, and found footmarks leading into the water, and Miss Willoughby's handkerchief at the water's edge.

TORE CAT TO PIECES

The residents of Daniel street are complaining today of the work of savage dogs who tore to pieces the pet cat of Mrs. George Parker on Wednesday night. The feline had been in the family many years and the owner was much attached to the animal.

Women have been attacked as well by these vicious canines and the people of the neighborhood have decided that they have gone the limit.

PORTSMOUTH WOMAN GETS APPOINTMENT

Mrs. Mary I. Wood to Have Place on State Board of Charities—Other Appointments.

The governor and council Wednesday named Frank A. Musgrove of Hanover, speaker of the house of representatives to be auditor, to fill the vacancy caused by the transfer of Judge William B. Fellows of Tilton to the tax commission by the supreme court.

Other appointments were made as follows:

Member of the board of forestry commissioners. General Jason E. Tollea, Nashua.

Member of the state board of charities and education. Mrs. Mary I. Wood of Portsmouth to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mrs. Lillian C. Streeter.

Member of the board of trustees of the state sanatorium, Mayor Charles Hale Shedd, Keene.

Commission to investigate and report plans for stamping out tuberculosis. Dr. Irving A. Watson of Concord.

Charles Gale Shedd of Keene, Frank A. Updyke of Hanover, Dr. Charles E. Congdon of Nashua, Mrs. Mary D. Felker of Rochester.

Commission to investigate and report on the subject of a state workhouse. Edwin L. Page of Concord, Frederick W. Shontell, Manchester, Alpha R. Forbush of Berlin.

Mrs. Mary I. Wood who was appointed to succeed Mrs. Streeter, is one that is very fitting as no woman in the state is better fitted for the positions. Mrs. Wood with her long experience in both charitable and educational work, will add strength to the board. In her position of chairman of the information bureau of the General Federation of Women's clubs she is in a position to gather and classify much valuable information that combined with a practically and business-like ability makes the appointment an especially good one.

DEDICATE RED MEN'S NEW HOME IN NEWMARKET

A large delegation of Red Men visited Newmarket Tuesday evening for the occasion of the dedication of the new quarters of the Pocasset tribe of that town. Rooms have been finished off in one of the business blocks there, and they afford ample and attractive accommodations for the Red Men. An elaborate program and banquet was prepared for the occasion, and the visiting delegations came from Portsmouth, Exeter, Dover, Rochester and elsewhere.

Pocasset tribe was presented with a handsome inkwell made from the hoof of a moose, the donor being John H. Elkins, one of the organizers of the tribe of Exeter, and also with a deer's leg, to which a thermometer was attached, the latter gift being by Frank Demerit, a past sachem of Wampanoag tribe.

IN ANNUAL CONVENTION

At the Free Baptist church on Pearl street, Wednesday was opened the annual convention of the Rockingham Association of Free Churches. The day was spent in the Rockingham Association of Free Churches from all parts of the county. There was a good delegation present and the program for the opening was especially interesting.

The convention opened with devotional service at 9.30, followed by a short business meeting and then papers. The conference sermon was by Rev. B. H. Tilton.

In the afternoon there was a short sermon, devotional services led by Dea. B. B. White. Church letters and services led by Rev. E. A. Kenyon. In the evening there was a young people's service.

The convention will be continued to day. The program for tomorrow and afternoon has been published.

No More Headache After a 'Cascaret'

Quickly removes the cause that produces the headache—Cleanses the Stomach, Liver and Bowels, and Bowels, and you feel good at once.

A cure for the blues—for sick headache—for biliousness—for sick stomach—Cascarets. For the cause of most of these troubles lies in the bowels. A Cascaret tonight means a cheery day tomorrow. Many bright days for ten cents. Are they worth it?

Don't think of Cascarets as a physic. They are candy tablets, as good as they are gentle. Their effect is the same as the effect of some foods. They stimulate the bowels to natural action. Those who have learned what is best carry a box in the pocket. They take one as soon as they need it.

Don't have a bowel wash day. Don't take physics in large doses and rarely. You wash your face at the first sign of cleanliness. Why not be as clean with your bowels? You know by the symptoms when your bowels need help. One Cascaret right then puts a stop to them. Get a 10 cent box now.

LAW REQUIRING FULL MEASURE TO BE KEPT

All fruits, nuts and vegetables if sold by measure, shall be sold by dry measure, United States Standard, and shall be measured by level measure. Basket or other receptacles holding one quart or less, which are used in the sale of strawberries, blackberries, cherries, currants, blueberries, huckleberries, raspberries or gooseberries shall be of the capacity of one quart, one pint, or one-half pint, United States standard dry measure. Whoever sells or offers for sale or has in possession with intent to sell, any of the aforesaid fruit in any basket or or less which does not conform to other receptacles holding one quart said standard, or conforming to said standard, is not level measure, shall be punished by a fine of ten dollars for each offense.

Such is the text of a law enacted by the late legislature relative to weights and measures and particularly to the provisions of the new law relative to the sale, by measure, of nuts, fruits and vegetables, which was called to the attention of local grocers and fruit dealers Wednesday by Wallace F. Partridge, pure food and drug inspector for the state board of health, who is making a trip to this and other New Hampshire cities for the purpose.

TREATY NEARLY COMPLETED

Washington, May 17—The proposed treaty of arbitration between the United States and Great Britain upon which rests the hope of the English-speaking peoples for a permanent peace between the two great nations and which probably will be a model for peace treaties with other nations, has at last reached the stage where it is to be presented to the British government for its approval. State Department officials have been constantly at work upon the treaty and Secretary Knox presented to the cabinet for its approval a tentative draft of it. Apparently it was most satisfactory to the President and his official family, as a whole. Secretary Knox after the cabinet meeting, announced that the tentative draft probably would be submitted today to Ambassador Dryce for transmission to the British Foreign Office. Exchange of notes between the two nations will follow. When the final draft is accepted by both countries the completed treaty will be signed and submitted to the United States Senate for approval and ratification by that body.

BUFFALO BILL TO RETIRE

Event Celebrated by Double Exhibition—The Wild West and Far East—Men of Many Climes—A Wide World Horse Show.

While announcing that the present tour will be his farewell to each city visited a superlative entertainment by presenting people from many races and nations and a congress of horses and horsemen such as has never been seen in one arena. This is made possible by the combination of the two bills' separate aggregations, known as the Wild West and Far East. The roster will include the American Indian, U. S. Cavalry Artillery, Russian Cossacks, Bedouin Arabs, Military of All Nations, Mexicans, American Cowboys, Western Ranch Girls, Company of Infantry, Devlin's Zouaves, Scouts, Frontiersmen, led by Johnny Baker and Col. Cody. In the Far East will be representatives from different Malay people, Australian Bush Rangers, East Indian Jugglers, Hindu Fakirs, Dervishes, Soudanese, Cypriotes, Persians, Chingalese, Dahomians, Hawaiians, Philippines, with Camels, Dromedaries and Elephants to lend color and atmosphere to the Oriental Pageant. The elephants are marvelous wise ones, and besides their other exhibitions of intelligence actually play on musical instruments in an effective manner. Besides the wild bucking horse of the paires a striking feature will be the introduction of remarkably trained horses, renowned in arena annals as premiers of their kind, to complete a wide world horse show, such as has never before been presented in one arena. This will give a grand lesson in every style possible in the art of Cavalier. Ray Thompson's mixed blood range horses, led by the famous "Joe Bailey," will be included. In addition there will be Rhode Royal's troop of twenty famed blue ribbon high school thoroughbreds, who will accomplish many feats and graceful postures only acquired and executed through their rare intelligence. These horses represent the Kentucky prize-bred blue grass princes. Thus will the spectators witness in one session of two hours the European and American schools of equitation, the finished products of the riding academy the society tournament, the professional arena, as well as the noted bucking bronchos of the plains. The various scenes and incidents illustrated on the billboards and in the advertisements will be faithfully executed, and a remarkable program will make celebrated the farewell of the old scout, Buffalo Bill.

RIVER AND HARBOR

The schooner Judge Low, which was at this port last trip, was towed into Newport, R. I., on Wednesday, shorn of her foremast, mainmast and bowsprit. The lawster between the tug Edgar F. Luckenbach and her tow cut across the Low as she was lying becalmed, totally dismantling her.

The five master M. D. Cressy sailed from Norfolk Wednesday with coal for this port.

Schooner Henry D. May, with coal for the Eastern Dredging company, arrived at Vineyard Haven, Wednesday.

Steamer Charles F. Mayer this forenoon finished discharging coal at the Consolidation coal company's wharf and went below.

The five masted schooner Baker Palmer was brought up from the lower harbor Wednesday and docked on the short side of railroad wharf this forenoon.

Barge No. 8 finished discharging coal at the Rockingham Light and Power company's wharf Wednesday afternoon and was towed to the lower harbor.

The barge Rehandler No. 6 of Boston which sank off Norman's Woe several days ago was raised Wednesday by the lighter Trilby and towed into Gloucester.

Arrived Below.

Sailed.

Steamer Charles F. Mayer, Baltimore, towing barge No. 8.

Orozco Fomenting Discord Among Revolutionists; Effect of the Cannonading on Juarez Buildings.

Some idea of the damage done to the buildings in Juarez by the assaults of the insurgents may be gained from the above illustration. The other picture shows General Orozco sowing seeds of discontent among his followers. Orozco, jealous at the credit given Garibaldi for the capture of Juarez, lined up a group of his faithful ones and demanded Madero's resignation, the surrender to them of Navarro, the federal general, and a lot of other things. Madero succeeded in pacifying the malcontents and aided Navarro to escape to the United States.

"Gives any Woman A New Skin."

Lillian Langley in The London Fashion (England.)

"Within the last three months, I have answered over 1,000 letters, from women asking one and the same question:—What shall I do for my complexion? and, although I dislike to write for publication my knowledge of toilet articles will put any woman's mind at rest as to what she should use.

"After 25 years of study in the treatment of the face, neck and arms, I find that few women know how to really improve their appearance. The usual treatment of the beauty specialist is a dangerous thing, as it is too harsh. It seems to have done good, but Oh my! shortly hair starts to grow and such a lot of wrinkles, and the skin soon becomes rough and red and is all dried up.

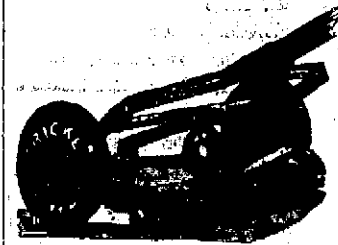

"The following simple home recipe will practically give any woman a new skin: Dissolve an original package of mayatone in 8 ounces of witch-hazel. Massage the face, arms and neck with this solution twice daily. This will remove all shine from the skin, giving it a natural, dainty color. It prevents the growth of hair and is absolutely harmless even to a baby's skin. All sorts of facial blemishes will soon disappear, and also the stray hairs."

TO PRODUCE ENERGY And Overcome Inertia

Good health is necessary to success—it is the mainspring of action. Without it you falter and fail and make a failure of things generally. Without good health you are at a disadvantage commercially, socially and intellectually. Health rules purpose, energy, concentration and accomplishment.

Be healthy. Remember that loss of energy means loss of business success. To ail means to fail. The surest means of warding off ailments and of providing against any loss of vigor is to take an occasional dose of Beecham's Pills.

They are famous the world over for their excellent effect upon the stomach, liver and other organs of digestion. If you are suffering in any way from digestive trouble you will be well advised to give them a trial. They will quickly and surely give tone to the system, restore the appetite, bring Health and Energy, and help you to prevail in the battle of life. It pays to take.

BRIDGE VERSUS FERRY

Repeated interruptions in the local interstate ferry service, unavoidable and otherwise, serve as reminders that all such traction system imperfections could be easily dispensed with by substituting the Kittery bridge for the present means of river transportation.

To run the cars of the Atlantic Shore Railway over the bridge and into Market Square would mean not only a great stride forward in the utilization and development of traffic facilities hereabouts, but a big saving to the Maine corporation in rendering the maintenance of two ferryboats unnecessary.

Undoubtedly obstructions in the way of such a move would be encountered, but none that can be imagined in the case are insurmountable.

The Atlantic Shore Railway's tracks pass the Kittery end of the bridge; the Portsmouth Electric Railway's trons are but a short distance from the New Hampshire end; the bridge itself is soon to be vacated by the Boston and Maine, we trust, and its rails could be easily adapted to electric road requirements. Does the task seem such a stupendous one?

Not to be unduly prejudiced against dogdom in general, the suit contemplated in Boston against the driver of an automobile who accidentally ran over one of the breed is decidedly a misfit one.

AMONG OUR EXCHANGES

Should End Test Cases.

Chief Justice White declared in his opinion that the Sherman law goes take no other.

no further than the common law. Business which cannot conform to the common law has outlived itself. Potentially Mr. Taft and Mr. Wick-ersham have won a tremendous victory in the court of last resort, but whether or not this victory serves a great public purpose depends upon the uses to which it is put. If corporations that violate the anti-trust law may purge themselves by reorganization after the illegality of their practices is established, and then proceed about their business as before, the Sherman act will forever be a rope of sand. But if the act is enforced in its entirety Big Business will bend to it.

This decision should mean the end of test cases. Big Business knows what the law is and it has very able attorneys, who know what the law is. If it deliberately violates the law let it be treated like any other criminal. New York World.

Imported Brown-Tail Moths.

The department of agriculture has just issued to farmers and horticulturists a warning against accepting imported nursery stock from France because of the danger of receiving brown-tail moth eggs or larvae. It appears that brown-tail and gypsy moth eggs were brought into the country in this manner last year and this year the brown-tails are coming in the nursery stock. In at least 15 states, including Massachusetts, the brown-tail moths have been found in seedlings shipped from France.

The department of agriculture in issuing this warning is performing a distinct service to fruit raisers and also proving that the government is vigilant. It is a curious fact that the United States is the only great power without the protection from the importation of insect infested or diseased plant stock. It is high time that the country established a quarantine for nursery stock.—Boston Globe.

PLAN FOR AD MEN'S MEET

Pilgrims to Boom New England at Convention.

The new ambassador to Russia, ex-Governor Curtis Guild of Massachusetts, Mayor Fitzgerald of Boston and General Charles H. Taylor of the Boston Globe, all of whom are members of the Pilgrim Publicity Association, the "Boost New England" organization of the publicity men, spoke at the May dinner this week in Boston in regard to the coming big convention of advertising men, to be held for the first time in the East, in Boston next August.

Ex-Governor Guild said that although the name of New England was famous everywhere, the world did not realize what a new spirit was moving in this section, and the convention of the Associated Advertising clubs of America would be a great opportunity for New England to show the brightest men from all over the country that she is up and doing and has lost none of her old-time prestige.

Mayor Fitzgerald spoke of the lack of proper railroad facilities and hotel accommodations in various sections of New England, and spoke earnestly in favor of New England capital being invested in New England enterprises. The Mayor said that he would arrange his trip to Europe with the Chamber of Commerce so as to return in time to welcome the 2000 or more ad men at the convention Aug. 2.

General Taylor called attention to the fact that $60,000,000 comes into New England every year through

A TIMELY TOPIC

FROM

"NEW ENGLAND,"

Published by the Boston Chamber of Commerce.

The New England Character

It is the New England character that must be considered in dealing with the question of a development of New England. If there is a hindrance to progress in New England it is that same New England character, which has ever been loath to accept optimism for its guiding motive.

The rocks of New England make possible the distinctive flavor of the New England apples, and in like analogy it may be just to attribute the restraint of New England character to the influence and the unconscious memory of generations of contention with the hard natural conditions surrounding industrial life in New England during its first two centuries. There has been a certain grim liking for adverse conditions in the New England character which has operated to produce reluctant assent to optimism.

The old-fashioned New Englander often chose the harder part, apparently for the very joy of martyrdom. Not a few of the men of New England seem yet to feel the same impulse. It was long a part of the creed of our fathers that the flesh must be "mortified," and it was their inclination to reject whatever promised pleasure, ease, or comfort. Profit they were in the habit of accepting, if it came to them in obvious guise.

They never would concede that one field was better for corn than another. If they elected to plant corn, and it did not elect to grow and ripen into a plentiful crop, the failure was charged up to providence—and the same field planted to corn the next year, and the next.

The Pilgrims and the Puritans persisted in whatever course they believed was divinely marked out for them. They trusted the Lord to provide nitrogenous stimulant for their fields, and would probably have regarded the planting of inoculated clover as an appeal to witchcraft.

We are averse to the new, we do not like to experiment, and we intervene in the matter of the fertility of our fields, and we are inclined to be persistently stubborn in matters of custom and tradition in our business methods. Tell an ingrained New Englander that his old apple orchard can be made to produce twice as many apples as he has harvested in his best year and he will not believe it; neither will the average New England business man believe that the efficiency expert can so order his business that it will yield 10 or 25 per cent fore profit.

We are averse to the new, we do not like to experiment, and we believe that which we are told must involve experiment because it is outside of our experience.

New England's summer resorts. "We want to make it $150,000,000," he said.

President George W. Coleman said: "We want to boom this city and New England, and we are going to do so by gathering here the largest convention of advertising men ever held—and they are the most alert men in the country. They will carry home vivid impressions of the best of all that is in this section of the country, and get a good idea of what New England is planning to do and be in the near future. Twenty-six committees are busily carrying out plans for the convention, which were formulated months ago, and which will be made of great interest, not only to the technical advertising men, but to the public at large. President Taft has consented to give us an audience at the summer White Houses. Governor Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey, Governor Hadley of Missouri and Rabbi Charles Fleischer will address the convention as well as several Governors of the New England states. The Pilgrim Publicity association is contributing $5000 from its own membership toward the entertainment of the delegates, and about $20,000 more is to be raised. Next August Boston will be the best advertised city and New England the best advertised section in the country." Over 300 members attended the rousing meeting with great enthusiasm, a number of whom came from other cities in New England and from New York.

PEOPLE'S OPINIONS

To the Editor of the Herald: When the politicians who are attempting to oust Harry B. Prior from the office of city auditor attempted to smirch his name by giving the city solicitor access to his books and vouchers why did they not carry out the bluff investigation to a greater degree and employ a man who knows something about figures to examine the accounts? Will you please refer me to some one who knows the purpose of this drive?

Expectantly.

KITTERY LETTER

Kittery, May 18.

The silver side, the losers to the gold side, in the contest at the Second Christian church Sunday school, proved themselves good losers, when they furnished a first class supper for the winners, Wednesday evening, in the vestry. At 7 o'clock about 100 members, including kindergarten department, sat down to tables handsomely set, and well laden down with good things, including salads, baked beans, bread, assorted cake and pies, cream pie, cloaca, crackers and fruit, and it goes without saying that all did full justice to the supper. Following a social hour was observed and vocal and instrumental music enjoyed.

Rev. E. H. Macy and Miss Ruth enjoyed a ride to York Beach, Wednesday evening in Oliver Remick's automobile.

Kittery grange will hold a regular meeting this evening in Grange hall. Miss Eleanor Lovell is entertaining a cousin from Portland.

Miss Mary Chandler Brooks, who has been spending the winter as the guest of Judge James Locke and daughters, at their home in Florida, has returned to her home here.

Rev. D. C. Loucks of South Portsmouth, R. I., was the guest of Rev. E. H. Macy recently. Mr. Loucks is now pastor of the church formerly in charge of Mr. Macy, and is visiting his daughter, Mrs. J. B. Fenwick of Rye.

Miss Helen Bicknell still remains ill at the home of her sister Mrs. Charles Prince. Mrs. Prince is also ill and their sister, Miss Edith Bicknell, is caring for them.

J. Edward Paul was a visitor in Dover Tuesday.

Thomas Plimpton, Jr., is working at Guy Amee's fish market.

A large class will receive the Royal Purple degree at the meeting of Dirigo Encampment the coming Friday evening. The event is joyfully anticipated. Cake is solicited from the members.

It needs to be said that one might well be careful how one digs greens beneath trees that have been sprayed.

Raymond, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Morrow is ill with bronchitis.

A meeting of the Eastern Star was held last evening in Odd Fellows hall. There was an initiation of candidates, and refreshments served.

The next social event is the fourth annual ball of the Kittery Yacht club.

The Ladies Aid of the Second M. E. church held its annual meeting with Mrs. Henry Shaw of Central street this afternoon.

Mrs. William Burroughs has returned from a short trip to Boston.

Mr. Charles Blaisdell and daughter Miss Alma, of York and Mrs. Herbert Baker of Kittery Point were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Baker Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Woodward passed Wednesday in Haverhill Mass.

Norman Dunbar has returned from a visit in Boston.

Isaac H. N. Pray is rapidly improving from injuries caused by his recent fall.

Miss Alice Paul passed Wednesday in Newburyport.

The members of the team of the Riverside Baseball association are putting in some hard practice on the diamond these pleasant evenings. The coming ball of the association promises to be the event of the season.

The meeting of the Pine Hill whist club this week was with Mrs. Ernest Jackson. Next meeting will be with Mrs. Thomas Morrow.

Miss Lizzie Packard and Mrs. Eleanor Packard of Kittery Depot are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Packard of Manson avenue for a while.

Charles I. Woods of the Intervenor is improving from his illness.

The body of Mrs. Augusta C. Hatch who died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. H. W. Hutchins, of Williams avenue, was taken to Wells, Me., yesterday for services and interment, by Undertaker H. W. Nickerson of Portsmouth.

Kittery Point.

Capt. F. O. Orpin, in charge of the dredge at work in Pepperell's cove, has moved his family here from Portland and rented the house of Mrs. Ellen A. Billings.

Commander W. W. Gilmer, U. S. N., of the gunboat Paducah, is reported to have rented the small cottage of Frederick A. Bradbury for the summer. The Gilmers last year occupied the cottage of Thurston D. Patch.

Mrs. John Thaxter is visiting in Newton and Pittsfield, Mass.

Ruth and Edward, children of Mr. and Mrs. Manning W. Lawry, are ill with measles.

Roy Mullen who has been employed on the Kittery water district extension on the Spruce Creek road has concluded his duties here and

The three masted schooner Beattie C. Beach arrived during the night from Philadelphia with 250 tons of iron pipe to be used in the Kittery water district extension. She will be docked at Frisbee's or Cull's wharf to discharge. The Beach stopped at Beverly en route and unloaded part of her cargo.

There will be a Union Temperance service of the three churches under the auspices of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union at the Free Baptist church on Sunday evening. The address will be given by Rev. I. James Merry. It is hoped that a large number will attend.

ABOUT THE STATE

Franklin, May 18—Work is expected to begin at once upon the unfinished piece of state road near the New Hampshire Orphans' home, where a portion of the Merrimack valley boulevard remains to be macadamized. The Boston and Maine railroad is to furnish ashes and cinders to raise the grade and the city of Franklin is to put on the macadam. Trap rock will probably be used and this treated to travertine or asphalt. Representatives who favor both of these have been here actively engaged in support of their favorite brands of top dressing. Highway Commissioner Gordon and his men will have charge of the work on the road. They are ready to begin operations at once.

Exeter, May 18—The closing day of the grand court convention of the Foresters of America was begun Wednesday morning in Red Men's hall, when the officers elected at the session Wednesday afternoon were installed by District Supreme Ranger Arthur L. Soucy of Nashua. The alternates chosen for the supreme court convention, which meets in Detroit, Mich., were chosen yesterday morning as follows: F. H. Carroll of Nashua, W. J. Robinson of Manchester, T. J. Keane of Exeter, J. F. Shea of Nashua and W. T. Wynn of Keene. At the invitation of the chamber of commerce Mayor Smith of Manchester and the different courts of that city it was voted to hold the next grand court convention in Manchester in 1912. Most of the delegates left Wednesday noon for their homes. Resolutions were passed on the death of Past Grand Chief Ranger J. Henry DeCourcy of Manchester, whose demise has occurred since the last convention.

NEW CASTLE

New Castle, May 18.

Those of our New Castle housewives who are of the exuberance of a merry heart occasioned by the sweet memories produced by the dawning of spring has loosened the tacks in the carpet, thus beginning the epoch of housecleaning some time ago are like Davy Crockett's Coon, seeing their finish. The head of the family pro tem has dwelt in the land of desolation and has beaten and beaten the carpet until George has come and then given him the beater and it would still hang on the close line an unvanquished foe, ready at short notice to emanate clouds of dust. There are days during this old time ordeal when we have had no luncheon, no dinner and as we have taken what provender the gods deliver to us in out of the way places we have thought "There is no place like home." It is a good plan while housecleaning to keep the mouth closed aside from being more healthful it is not always best to say what you think. And we take courage with the knowledge that it has not come to stay the sunlighted peaks of deliverance lie just ahead and there is fine sailing for another twelve months when we have weathered the squall.

Mr. Thorpe did not know that his sister, Mrs. Bull, was having communications from her husband in another world and never knew that Mrs. Briggs claimed to be a medium and to talk with people in another world or had power to drive out evil influences. He testified in regard to Mrs. Bull's associations with the Swamis.

Regarding Mrs. Bull's associations with the swamis, Mr. Thorpe said, she went to India in January, 1908; that her daughter, Mrs. Olga Vaughan, did not wish her to go, but her regrets were not that she was going with a strange swami but that she did not wish to leave her daughter when Olga's child was ill.

Many letters were introduced by Sherman I. Whipple to show the good feeling of Mrs. Bull toward her daughter, Mrs. Vaughan, Mrs. Abbie Shapleigh and Mrs. Amelia Shapleigh of Lebanon. Nearly all the afternoon session was taken up by the reading of these letters by Mr. Thorpe and he had not finished when court adjourned for the day.

It is understood that on account of Mr. Whipple's business in Boston that court will adjourn until next Monday morning.

Want $10,000,000 Spent at New York.

A special report has been received at the Navy Department from Naval Constructor William G. Groesbeck and Civil Engineer F. R. Harris, U. S. Navy, who are on duty at the New York navy yard, concerning the development of the facilities of that establishment with a view to increasing the accommodation for ships. The report is a valuable contribution to information already possessed by the Navy Department concerning the improvements of the plant at Brooklyn. At present the policy is to install these facilities as appropriations become available in the direction of the recommendations made some years ago by a board of officers, of which the president was Rear Admiral Frederick Rogers, now on the retired list, but at that time commandant of the yard. The changes, which have been suggested by Naval Constructor Groesbeck and Civil Engineer Harris, involve an expense of about $10,000,000, and would greatly increase the pier space available for ships. With the increase of the Navy it is appreciated that the enlargement of the facilities in this respect is of value. It is doubtful, however, if the latest recommendations are approved, mainly on account of the expense involved and the fact that the Navy Department is committed to the recommendations of the Rodgers board, the conclusions of which appear to be considered as sufficient for the needs of the service at Brooklyn.

REFUSE TO HEAR PACKERS

Chicago, May 17.—Judge George A. Carpenter in the U. S. district court today refused to hear oral argument from attorneys for the indicted Chicago meat packers on their plea for a rehearing of the demurrers which Judge Carpenter overruled May 13. He gave them a week to file briefs.

The formal motion filed yesterday was not amplified in any way, in view of Judge Carpenter's ruling, and nothing further in the way of outlining their course will be presented by the packers until the briefs are filed.

Judge Carpenter, in fixing a time for the filing of briefs, took occasion to indicate his position on the ruling of the U. S. supreme court—that it in no wise affected the penalty clauses of the Sherman act, but had to do only with what constituted violation.

"I disposed of that point in my opinion on the demurrer," said Judge Carpenter, "that is to say, that the supreme court must regard the Sherman act as a penal statute, and if it does, then, by giving relief under the defining sections 4 and 7, it necessarily must have approved sections 1, 2 and 3."

"For certain purposes," interjected Atty. John S. Miller, who, with Levy Mayer, filed the motion for rehearing on the demurrers.

"There can be no purpose as I look at it," answered the court, "to send 4 or section 7 unless there can be a violation of this act, to quote from the earlier section. That is the point I think needs discussion."

Counsel for the packers however, are prepared to argue, in their briefs, that if it be necessary that some court of equity determine in each individual case whether the restraint of trade has been unreasonable or not, the act does not provide the retailer with any means of knowing beforehand whether or what he is doing is unreasonable as viewed by the court or not; that hence the law is void, penal sections and all, not through a supreme court decision but as a violation of the fifth and sixth amendment to the federal constitution, and because it is "uncertain."

CITY THREATENED BY FIRE

Portland High School Burns, and Only Absence of Wind Prevents a Conflagration.

Portland, Me., May 17.—That Portland did not have a fire as extensive as the Bangor $3,000,000 conflagration of April 30, through the burning of the Portland high school, this morning, was due largely to the absence of wind. Fortunately, with one exception, the fire was confined within the walls of the 45-year-old school building in which thousands of residents and former residents of this city acquired a part of their education.

While the fire was still burning actively, though under control, an alarm came in from Middle st. near Monument sq., for a fire which had started from sparks carried from the high school building and was briskly blazing on the roof of a building occupied by Voznyak's restaurant. This was soon extinguished. Sparks were carried directly across the business section.

The walls at one time during the progress of the fire threatened to fall, especially the front wall on Cumberland av., and greatly endangered the lives of the firemen, but they remained standing. The coping on both side walls fell and this gave rise to a report that a part of the northeastern wall had fallen.

The upper two stories of the building, which is a four-story brick structure, was completely burned off, and the roof was burned off. The lower floors, in which there are 16 large recitation rooms and the basement were damaged by fire and soaked with water.

The building was valued at $90,000, not including contents, and the loss, which has not been estimated and will depend upon the condition of the walls, is covered by $65,000 insurance, which was increased when the building was burned three years ago. There were no accidents.

The origin of the fire was being investigated today. It started in the basement not far from the boiler room in a wire on the northeastern side.

and one theory was that it was due to spontaneous combustion in the coal supply. There were no fire-alarms and it had run through to the roof, burning farth near the chimney, within 15 minutes.

FOR NATIONAL HIGHWAYS

Washington, May 17.—A bill providing for two national auto highways was introduced today by Representative Hobson. It authorizes the appointment of two commissions, one members from various states, to work out two gigantic improvements, one a highway to extend from the Atlantic to the Pacific ocean along the 35th parallel of north latitude; the other to extend from Canada to Mexico on a line near the 23d meridian west from Washington.

These highways, the bill provides, shall be known respectively as the national east-west auto highway and the national north-south auto highway.

The cities lying near the 35th parallel of latitude are New Bern, N. C.; Spartanburg and Greenville, S. C.; Chattanooga, Tenn.; Decatur, Ala.; Corinth, Miss.; Memphis, Tenn.; Little Rock, Ark.; McAlester, Ok.; Clarendon and Amarillo, Tex.; Albuquerque, N. M.; the Zuni Indian reservation, Billings and Flagstaff, Ariz.; Mojave and Los Angeles, Cal. The parallel is close to the dividing line of several southern states.

The 23d meridian west of Washington is near the 99th west from Greenwich, runs near Bismarck, N. D.; Pierre, S. D.; Halsey or North Platte, Neb.; Dodge City, Kan.; Beaver, Ok.; Clarendon, Abilene and Eagle Pass, Tex.

BUFFALO BILL

There will be something new and something doing in Portsmouth on Monday, May 22, declares Peter S. McNally, press representative of the new Buffalo Bill-Pawnee Bill alliance, which gives the most novel, action-best balanced entertainment yet presented.

It is replete with human interest, horsemanship and frontier episodes. Besides the standard gems reflective of frontier life in the younger days of "Buffalo Bill," its scope in, strange, people extends so as to include the more primitive races in the countries visited by the United States fleet on its celebrated cruise du monde.

Col. W. F. Cody, "Buffalo Bill," is making noted his farewell visits by presenting more varied types of different nationalities and races from around the world than any governmental or private enterprise has heretofore collected. The exhibition this year is a school of human kinship in which the public at large can study their fellowmen by comparison, not offered to the same extent on any other occasion in history.

This is rendered possible by the combination of Buffalo Bill's Wild West and Pawnee Bill's Far East, to celebrate the abdication of one and the succession of the other to arctic honors, by giving an exhibition so large in general scope that nature description would seem to be exaggerated. The combination of the Wild West and Far East is so novel that there is nothing under the sun like it.

It is so genuine that the managerial announcements can be relied upon implicitly that the programme is a rare one on this occasion to mark the parting tour of Buffalo Bill.

The combination, the Messrs. Cody and Little alliance, is something more than an entertainment; its educational and patriotic value being very great. It is something which the children should see, as it will give them a broader knowledge and conception of the many species that compose the human race. As to the older it will be a rare treat, as all the strange people are seen in safe characteristic action, plays or pastimes, the programme being elaborated to make celebrated this visit—Colonel W. F. Cody's personal farewell in Portsmouth, May 29.

A BIG ATTRACTION COMING.

Charles Frohman will present at the Portsmouth Theatre on May 24 "The Arcadians," a fantastical musical comedy, that enjoyed a year of continuing prosperity in New York City, before starting on a limited tour of the cities of middle west and east.

"The Arcadians" was written by Mark Aubrey and A. M. Thompson and the music is by Edward MacLennan and Howard Talbot. It was directed by Thomas Reynolds, and has been proclaimed as one of the most beautiful scenic productions ever presented.

The plot of "The Arcadians" rests upon the adventures of a London restaurant keeper, James Smith, middle-aged and not too devoted to his Cockney wife, who falls from his armpit into that land, which Father Time had overlooked, and where people know not the meaning of guile. The sons and daughters of Arcady were beautiful, simple and truthful. They talked with the birds, the trees and the flowers and when their London visitor introduced to them the heretofore unknown life, they washed him in the Wall of Truth, restored him to youth and beauty, and then sent two of their fairest daughters with him to London to convert that sinful town.

The Londoner and his fair companions drop down on the Askwood Racers and cause a sensation. The restaurant keeper's wife is there, and so is her niece, the beautiful Ellen Cavanaugh, who is deeply interested in Jack Meadows, an unfortunate young horseowner, whose favorite horse, "The Deuce" is a 100 to 1 shot, with no "making."

While the rejuvenated Smith is flirting with his unsuspecting wife, and Ellen is consoling Meadows for the sudden illness of his favorite jockey, the two Arcadian nymphs are holding friendly converse with "The Deuce" and learn that he has determined to win the race, no matter who strides him. "He can sleep safely on my back," say The Deuce, and I'll carry him to victory." The Arcadians tell Meadows, who although doubtful of the result asks Smith, to ride the race and the second act, showing the unexpected victory of The Deuce, introduces novel and lively stage picture of the triumph.

Meadows wins the fair Ellen; Smith, telling a lie again, reverts to his wrinkles, his age—and his wife; the Arcadian maidens, despairing of ever weaning the Londoners from the ways of Untruth, return to their own land, and the final curtain falls upon a scene of exquisite beauty.

Who's Who in Arcady.

It is a remarkable fact that with a company containing so many prominent artists, the organization remains intact, after continued performances of over a year and a half. Frank Moulan, the James Smith of the play, won particular reputation in "The Sultan of Sulu" and "The Grand Mogul;" Percival Knight, who has made the role of the jockey, a classic, has played all over the world having headed the first big musical comedy organization of any size that ever toured the Far East. He was in Pekin during the Boxer troubles and helped to entertain the officer of the Allied Affairs when the troops took possession. He visited this country with G. P. Huntley in "Kitty Grey" and awoke the day after the premiere of "The Arcadians" in New York City a year and a half ago to find himself famous for his remarkable interpretation of the role of the sad-faced jockey, who never won a race, who never cracked a smile, but whose motto in life was: "Always merry and bright."

Julia Sanderson, the Ellen Cavanaugh, is a Springfield, Mass., girl of exquisite beauty and grace, who started in the ranks of the chorus, and rose rapidly after the sudden illness of Paula Edwards gave her the unexpected opportunity of playing a leading role. She played the title role in "Kitty Grey" and also made a hit as Peggy in "The Days Maids." She created a sensation in London by her charm and artistry in "The Dashing Young Duke."

The lyric honors of "The Arcadians" fall to Ethel Cadman, who within four years after her entrance into the Moody Manners' Grand Opera Company of England, was singing the stellar roles in "Carmen," "Traviata," "Faust" and other standard operas. This is Miss Cadman's first American engagement. In "The Arcadians" she plays the role of Sandra, an Arcadian girl, who plays the role of Chrysler. May Day by Mary Macklin, a young Arcadian girl, who attracted Mr. Frohman's attention by the charm of her dancing in "The Dollar Princess;" Alan Mudie, the Jack Meadows of the company, whose graceful dancing, duets with Julia Sanderson invariably arouse the greatest enthusiasm "graduated" from Shakespeare to musical comedy. His first role on the stage five years ago was that of Mercutio in "The Merchant of Venice" in a small company touring the English provinces. In that year he played thirty Shakespearean roles. He has never taken a dancing lesson, although his terpsichorean work in "The Arcadians" is one of the hits of that production. Josephine Hall, the Mrs. Smith of the play, after making a hit in "The Girl from Maxim's" starred in "Mollie Arkwright" and in "The Girl from Paris" made famous the song, "Mary Jane's Top Note."

Owing to the elaborate musical program of "The Arcadians" the performance will begin promptly at eight o'clock.

DIED FROM HIS INJURIES

Charles F. Earle, a machinist at the navy yard died at the Portsmouth hospital on Wednesday evening from injuries received on Thursday, May 4, by being thrown from a carriage in Kittery.

Mr. Earle was engaged in showing off a horse and the animal became frightened and ran away and Earle was thrown out. He was badly injured, his right hip being shattered and injured internally. He was removed to the Cottage hospital and operated on, but his internal injuries were such that he failed gradually until the end Wednesday.

He had only been employed at the navy yard a few weeks.

GREAT ACCURACY

What it Means in Our Own Navy.

A Dreadnought makes all the navies of the world without Dreadnoughts obsolete, because such a battleship with its ten 12-inch guns, is capable of firing a broadside at all of them at once while steaming twenty knots. Such a battleship, steaming as fast as any rival, bringing more guns into action than any rival, hitting an enemy at seven miles could destroy the whole of an opposing fleet one by one, even as the pugilist would take the lighter weights one by one. But the horse-trotting fire-fighting American stop-watch practice is also in the navy, and it was realized that if those big guns could be fired four times as fast, it would be very nearly the same as having four times as many guns or four times as many Dreadnoughts, and all so that if the skill of aim could be increased fourfold, if four shots would reach the target as compared to one in the older practice, one modern Arkansas or Wyoming with twelve 12-inch guns, firing four times as fast and hitting four times as often, will, for the time being at least, be sixteen times as effective. These big guns are loaded, aimed and fired twice in a minute. The practice drill is of two kinds. There is the physical act of leading the heavy gun, there is the more important act of pointing it. Two opposing ships are 10,000 yards apart (about six miles) steaming at eighteen knots in diverging directions. The rate of change of range may be 750 yards a minute. If the range is set for every fifty yards, it must be redetermined every four seconds. This is impossible, but it can be determined every thirty seconds. Being able to determine the range twice a minute, to fire twice a minute, the remaining part is drill in pointing or aiming and this is done by means of much practice with models. To hit a target sixty feet wide and thirty feet high at 30,000 feet with a big gun, when you can cover it twice over by the point of a lead pencil at arm's length, is considerably harder than to hit a target one inch high at eighty-three feet with a small gun; but it is much better and cheaper to fire one thousand shots with the small gun than to fire the big gun once, and when the big gun is fired four times in practice, after training with small apparatus, it will do better than if

GAS Is Coal With The Trouble Taken Out

GAS is really nothing more than coal, only with gas you have the coal less the dirt, ashes and smoke. These have been taken out by the gas company, the weight too, has been taken out, for when you use gas you don't have to carry it up from the cellar in buckets, straining your back in your attempt to do so; all of the drudgery has been removed. The Gas Company has taken everything out of the coal but the heat and that's the one thing you want; this they deliver to you right to the burner of the gas range. You only have to turn a valve and strike a match in order to have it.

firing one hundred real shots without the model practice.

In the battle practice I saw the first 12-inch range-finding shot, from a distance of 14,000 yards, go clean through a 30 by 60 target; and so accurate and secure was the aim of all the salvos that we calmly watched the shots splash all around the floating target only four hundred yards away. The firing end was not less impressive. The team work was so perfect that the salvos from the same ships were re-directed one after the other almost with the ease with which a child swings a garden hose to beat on a "particular flower."

A TRIP TO EUROPEAN PORTS

Belgium, in proportion to its size, has one of the most intensely developed systems of waterways of any European country. It has over 1000 miles of canal, constructed by the state and over 100 miles by the provinces. Belgium has a highly developed system of railroads. These great transportation facilities make her a great industrial country.

Belgium as Antwerp and Antwerp as Belgium seems a true saying. Within a half century has arisen in some respects no leadership among the world's great ports. It is located 53 miles from the North Sea and has railroads and waterways connecting with the three largest countries, France, Holland and Germany.

The port of Antwerp is administered by a harbor commission. There are two distinct ports, one with quays, the other with docks. Ten of them, where the water is constant, the former vessels rise and fall with the tide about 13 feet.

There are 12 miles of quay, 375 of water in the docks, railroads amount to 90 miles connecting the river quays and docks with the railway system entering Antwerp.

The quays are known as the Old River Quays and New River Quays, built at different dates. There is a floating stage with a movable bridge for passenger service, similar to those used upon the Mersey river at Liverpool. The quays and docks have warehouses and modern appliances for handling freight.

Antwerp has six drydocks and is building a new one at a cost of $965,000. This dock will be 722 feet long.

Antwerp has been pressed for room to handle her great business and is extending her docks and quays. Several tunnels will be constructed under the river and finally comes the great scheme, cutting a new channel for the river Scheldt, across a great bank just below the city. This plan would add a new river in average of 28,725 ft. to the present river channel of 18,449 ft. The new docks will be increased 300 per cent and the quays from 19 to 31 miles, all this work to be finished in ten years.

These people have great confidence in the future of the port of Antwerp and she will retain her future commercial supremacy of the North Sea ports.

Antwerp increased her tonnage from 1900 to 1909 from 5,592,670 tons to 9,002,059 tons. The quays of vessels entering the port of Antwerp increased from 5,631,791 tons in 1900 to 11,940,332 tons.

New York has a plan of improving her harbor after the quay system in Antwerp. It proposes to build a quay 2 1/2 miles long on the North River and 200 feet wide, covered with sheds and built of steel.

A HERO'S DEATH

Took Chances to Avoid Injuring Soldiers.

Washington, May 17.—That Lieut.

George E. M. Kelly, U. S. A., who was thrown from his aeroplane at San Antonio May 10, met a hero's death, was the practical verdict of the army board whose report has been received by Chief Signal Officer Allen.

The board says the accident was due to efforts of Lieut. Kelly to avoid endangering men in the 11th infantry camp, necessitating his making a sharp left turn to avoid the tents, and thus straining the control.

THE IDAHO TO GO TO VICKSBURG

Plenty of Water for the Battleship. It is Said—Itinerary for Trip Announced.

When the battleship Idaho passed Port Hudson on her trip up the Mississippi river yesterday, an impressive ceremony was held. It was off this point that the Mississippi was sunk during the Civil War by the Confederate batteries and many sailors met death. As the Idaho passed this historic spot, the guard was paraded and presented arms as the band played and the colors were dipped. It was recalled by the officers of the Idaho that Admiral Dewey was an officer on board the Mississippi at the time of that desperate fight.

The rearranged itinerary of the Idaho was announced by her commander, Captain H. O. Dunn. It follows: Arrive Vicksburg Thursday, May 18; leave Vicksburg Monday, May 22; arrive Natchez Monday, May 22; leave Natchez Friday, May 26; arrive Bayou Sara Friday, May 26; leave Bayou Sara Sunday, May 28; arrive Baton Rouge Wednesday, May 31; arrive Plaquemine Wednesday, May 31; leave Plaquemine Thursday, June 1; arrive Donaldville Thursday, June 1; leave Donaldville Thursday, June 1; arrive New Orleans Saturday, June 4.

The Idaho left Baton Rouge this morning at eight o'clock and literally "loafed" up the river. The change of the itinerary has made it necessary to "kill" time before arriving at Vicksburg, where the Idaho will be for almost five days. This will make possible the visit to Natchez on the original dates, May 2 to 25. As Bayou Sara was passed a tug came out with a message for Captain Augustus Hiner, the pilot, containing the information that there was a depth of water to spare beyond Natchez and that no hesitancy need be felt about going to Vicksburg. No attempt it was said, will be made to go beyond Vicksburg, unless orders come from the Navy Department, although Captain Hiner's opinion it could easily be done. The pilot believes even Memphis, Tenn., could be reached. The Idaho will anchor tomorrow night at St. Joseph, La.

PEACE IS IN SIGHT

Juarez, Me., May 17.—Provisional Pres. Francisco I. Madero, Jr., and Dr. Vasquez Gomez, his chief peace commissioner, were in conference at 7 a. m. today concerning the signing of a peace agreement.

Judge Carbajal, it was expected, would transmit about noon the formal acceptance by the Mexican government of the peace conditions which have already been taken to mean the beginning of an era of tranquility in Mexico.

Beside the portfolios of war, justice and government in the presidential cabinet, it was said today the insurgents, would name governors for the following 14 states:

Chihuahua, Sonora, Sinaloa, Zacatecas, Coahuila, Yucatan, Tlaxcala, Durango, Hidalgo, Puebla, Guanajuato, Guerrero, Morelos and Jalisco or Tabasco.

In response to a request from the Mexican government Provisional Pres. Madero and his cabinet gathered at 11 a. m. today to formulate a final peace agreement, which will be submitted by telegraph by J. J. Carbajal today to Pres. Diaz and his cabinet. The rebels' program was submitted late this afternoon, and an answer is not expected before tomorrow.

REFUGEES AT EAGLE PASS

Two Thousand Fled from Ciudad Porfirio Diaz, Expecting Attack—Garrison Is Reinforced.

Eagle Pass, Tex., May 17.—Reinforced by 100 federal cavalrymen who came in during the night, the federal garrison at Ciudad Porfirio Diaz, across the river from this place, is prepared today to fight if the two bands of rebels reported within 12 miles of the town attack them.

The predicted rebel attack did not show a sign of materializing last night but refugees streamed into Eagle

GOVERNOR BASS IS NOT WANTED

New Hampshire Collegians Bear Grudge For Veto

Sign Petition Asking For His Absence From Commencement

Once more there is a ruffle in the serenity at New Hampshire College at Durham which comes from the source that caused Gov. Bass to be hung in effigy on the college grounds several weeks ago.

The students, it seems are still displeased over the way in which he checked the appropriation of $50,000 for that institution and are now alleged to be circulating a petition among the members protesting against his giving an address at the commencement exercise next month. The governor is already scheduled to talk on that day and this protest on the part of the students in general will be placed in the hand of the president, W.D. Gibbs. It is understood that a few of the college men and the president are not exactly in sympathy with the movement.

Another story is that Gov. Bass some time ago gave out that he would not be present on this occasion and so notified his friends. At any rate the petition is going the rounds and whether the Governor has decided to come or not, the students are taking this means to politely inform him that they will not expect him to appear when the exercises are on.

The latest upset in railroad circles, from these are three trains on the Fitchburg division, and others from the Boston and Maine system will discontinue several trains in the passenger department which do not pay expenses. The report has it that between fifteen and eighteen trains will be dropped from the present schedule.

Three of the trains which are to be taken off between now and June 1 are the 5 a. m. over the Fitchburg division for Troy, N. Y., another arriving in Boston from Troy at 10.30 p. m., and a third leaving Boston for Concord, N. H., and other points at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Aside from these are three trains on the Fitchburg division, and others from the Boston and Maine system will discontinue several trains in the passenger department which do not pay expenses. The report has it that between fifteen and eighteen trains will be dropped from the present schedule.

Among the runs to be annulled on the Portland division and the only train that will affect the travelling public of this city, will be the 3.12 p. m. express for Boston.

The Dover train leaving here at 9.10 in the evening, it is said will not leave here until later owing to some change to be made on the western route which requires this train to connect only with the late evening train from Portland to New York.

THIS CAT CAME BACK

When a cat and a dog join in giving battle to another canine there is a small chance of the Carlo that fights alone.

This was just what happened on Penballow street this forenoon. A strange dog that did not belong in that part of the town was passing by the corner of Bow street, when he spied a store cat perched upon a box. He took a good look at pussy but made no attempt to tear out any of her fur. While Carlo was gazing at the feline a bulldog that has been a running mate of the cat for some time appeared, and thinking that the cat was in danger pounced upon the back of the other dog and in a minute the street was full of dogs.

The guardian of the cat appeared to be getting worried and it was up to kitty to get in her work. One jump and she was on Carlo's back and the air was full of hair and fur.

Pussy was certainly the hero and when the bull felt the claws up and down his spine he released his hold on the under dog and dashed up the street at a rapid clip.

OBITUARY

William H. Phinney.

The death occurred early this morning at his home on Cabot street of William H. Phinney.

Mr. Phinney was born September 3, 1848 at Black Rock, Nova Scotia, the son of William and Elizabeth A. Phinney. About a year after his birth the family moved to Eastport, Me., and later in 1862 he came to this city where he had resided ever since. He was at various times employed by the late Leonard Cotton, Albert R. Hatch and Josiah Adams.

He was a letter carrier under the first Cleveland administration and had conducted a laundry business for about twenty-five years.

He is survived by a wife, one son, LeRoy, a brother, Robert, a sister, Mrs. Charles E. Holmes, all of this city, and two brothers, Lorenzo and Howard of Newburyport.
